

This is the TEXAS National Guard, Suh!

IF YOU DON'T THINK THIS IS THE TEXAS NATIONAL GUARD, just take another look at the picture. Where else but in Texas would you find a cow pony tied up to a six by six heavy duty Army truck? Horses aren't included in the standard equipment for heavy mortar companies, even in Texas' 36th Division, but a visitor to the open house brought his along Saturday.

Approximately 700 people toured the new armory building during the day. Local guardsmen ushered them through the building pointing out the interesting equipment, and if the visitor's timing was right he had the privilege of hearing both the Fourth Army Band of Fort Sam Houston and the Hondo High School Owl Band play during the day.

Visiting dignitaries were honored guests at a barbecue dinner held at noon on the TAI picnic grounds. Sponsored by the chamber of commerce, the meal was prepared by volunteers from Hal Jones Post American Legion and V. F. W. Post 3891.

MAJ. GEN. K. L. BERRY told the audience at the formal opening that the United States now has a Military Reserve plan with a good chance of working. He said that we could not afford to again relax our military efforts, because with today's inventions, it is not possible to take time to train armies after a war starts. On the speakers platform, visible in this picture are, from left, Walter Gunstream, general manager of Texas Aviation Industries, Gen. W. H. Simpson, wartime commander of the Ninth Army, Maj. Gen. Mark McClure, deputy commander of the Fourth Army, Hondo's Mayor O. A. Fly, James Amberson, who served as master of ceremonies, and Texas Supreme Court Justice Will Willson, Dallas. Gen. Courtney Hodges, commander of the First Army in Europe during World War II, was also on the platform, but is not in this photograph.

Other local men on the speakers platform were Chamber of Commerce President Paul Bybee and J. S. MacManus, Chairman of the C. of C. military affairs committee.

VE BOYS WERE LEARNING all about the operation of field telephones Saturday at the National Guard open house. Supervising are Pfc. Juan Ramos and Bennie Dominguez, and

PFC. DAVID RIH is shown preparing to drop a dummy shell into the muzzle of the heavy mortar which is the principal weapon of Hondo's Heavy Mortar Company. The comparatively small mortar (4.2 inch) can throw a shell from the armory as far as the Dunlay hill, and the gunners rarely see the targets. Firing instructions are sent back by radio or telephone from the forward observers. Watching Rihn is SP-3 Clarence Mumme Jr., and Captain Roland D. Weber, commanding officer of the unit. Rihn is from Devine, while the other two are from Hondo.

MIXED-UP LICENSE PLATES CAUSE BURGLARS CAPTURE

Two San Antonio men who came to Hondo on wild escape Monday night are now housed in the Medina County jail, according to Sheriff C. J. Hitzfelder.

Ruben Macias, 19, and Bernard Gonzales, 22, left San Antonio in a stolen car and came to Charles Winkler's home on Ave. F in Hondo. They stole the front license plate off his car, put it on the one they were driving and put the one from their stolen car back on Winkler's.

They then drove to Oscar Rohrbachs home and exchanged another license plate with him.

Parking behind the Hondo National Bank, Hitzfelder said the men entered the Aztec Cafe where they broke into the juke box and cigarette machine, then used cold water and tried to wash off their fingerprints.

Driving back into San Antonio, a sharp-eyed city policeman noticed the two different license plates, stopped the car, and found they were the men wanted in connection with the Hondo burglary—Hitzfelder having put a call out on them over the radio.

In the trunk of the car were 13 packages of cigarettes, which the Aztec owner said was a small part of what they took out. The police also recovered $16.63 of the money.

Dolph Briscoe Bows Out As State Representative

Dolph Briscoe Jr., representative in the Texas Legislature for this area, has decided not to run for re-election this year. His statement follows:

I sincerely regret that business and personal obligations make it impossible for me to continue to hold political office at this time. I am very grateful that you have placed your faith and trust in me for eight full years; and I shall continue to try to be worthy of your friendship.

It has been the privilege of a lifetime to represent this district in the State Legislature. I am proud to have served you in the Legislature, but above all, I am proud of your friendship.

I want to thank each of you for your support through the past years. Your trust, your faith in me, and your friendship are treasures I shall cherish all my life.

No word had been received in Hondo Wednesday on a possible candidate to succeed Rep. Briscoe.

By mutual agreement of two companies, Universal-Rundle Corporation is ceasing to be a wholly owned subsidiary of Sears, Roebuck and Co. and has come into its own as an independently owned corporation. In furtherance of this objective, stock of Universal-Rundle has been sold in part to key company employees and in part to other groups. Sears remains an important stockholder and one of the most valued customers of the Universal-Rundle Corporation.

For the first time, the company will be an independent manufacturer. The Hondo plant will continue its present policies and production.

The company has issued a statement entitled "A Brief Review of Universal-Rundle Corporation." It states:

"Universal-Rundle Corporation is the result of a merger in 1949 of Universal Sanitary Manufacturing Co., and Rundle Manufacturing Co. Before the merger, both companies had been manufacturers of bathroom fixtures for nearly 50 years. Universal produced vitreous china fixtures, and Rundle made enameled cast iron fixtures.

"Early in the business life of both companies Sears, Roebuck and Co. began to purchase fixtures. Due to the rapid growth of Sears in the distribution of plumbing fixtures, it was necessary for Sears to furnish Universal and Rundle funds for the expanding of manufacturing facilities. This resulted in Sears acquiring partial ownership of both companies, and eventually led to complete ownership. With the help and encouragement of Sears, both companies continued to serve the jobber trade, despite increased requirements for Sears' outlets.

"After World War II, it became apparent that a new home construction would provide a greatly expanding market for plumbing fixtures. Both Universal and Rundle were in a poor competitive position to take full advantage of this expanded market, in that neither had a complete line—(Universal had vitreous china only, and Rundle enameled cast iron only), and Sears sold basically in the replacement market. The merger of the two companies made it possible to meet the challenge of this expanding market.

"In the seven years since the merger, our company has become one of the largest in the industry. During this time, sales to Sears have increased, but the major factor in our growth has been the tremendous increase in our own sales to the jobber trade. Continuing success requires continuing growth. Sears will continue to be one of our largest and most valued customers. There can be no doubt, however, that the continuing growth of the company is dependent for the most part on increasing sales to the jobber trade.

"The record of growth in the last 7 years is ample evidence that Universal-Rundle Corporation has reached full maturity, and is in an advantageous position to operate as an independent company. As an independent company we will be in a far better position to capture a greater share of sales to the jobber trade."

One tire was stabbed on a car belonging to W. E. Berger. The two were picked up early Tuesday morning by Sheriff Charles Hitzfelder who caught them after questioning those who saw the pair while they were staggering down the street.

Dear Friends

As a part of their work in Humble's Refining Research Laboratory, Humble scientists bombard petroleum hydrocarbons with electrons in a 2-million volt Van de Graaff Accelerator.

But if you ask one of these scientists what he expects to find, he'll answer, who knows!

For this is fundamental research. Results may be quick or they may be a long time developing. Who knows?

... Perhaps the scientists will find a way to increase the yield of useful products from a barrel of crude oil.

... Perhaps they'll be able to make improvements in the fine products already supplied you.

... Perhaps they'll develop an entirely new group of petroleum products.

Who knows!

This much, however, is certain: Humble research scientists at Baytown use every device of physics, chemistry, mathematics and mechanics to provide you with more and better petroleum products.

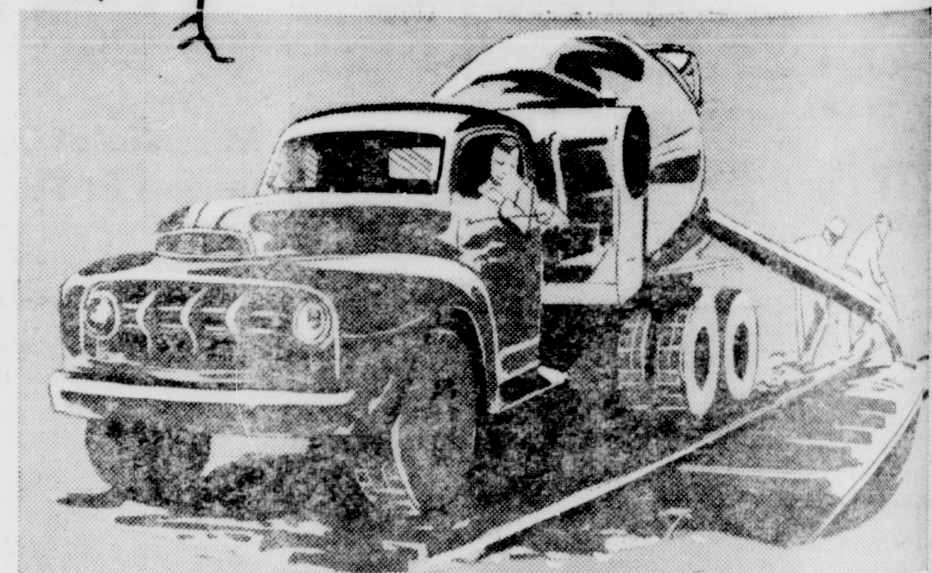

Two quick examples: The specifications for Esso Extra gasoline, the formula for Humble Uniflo motor oil. These, without question, are the finest products you can use in your car.

Sincerely

ANOTHER IRON CURTAIN?

WHAT PRICE SUCCESS?

The incompatibility of today's discriminatory tax policy with our free economic system can be demonstrated very practically.

If a man works overtime, his reward from his private employer will be a higher rate of pay. But — if he gets into another tax bracket, his government penalizes him!

A salesman will work harder, produce more business and get higher commissions from his employer. But — then he gets higher tax rates from his government!

It is a strange situation when the government will penalize a citizen for doing what, everyone agrees, merits extra reward from his private employer.

TELLS ABOUT LORENZO CASTRO'S BOOK "THE REPUBLIC OF MEXICO"

THE MAGUEY PLANT OR AGAVE AMERICANA

Of all the varied plants, both useful and ornamental, to be found in Mexico, Mr. Castro chose only one to which to devote a whole chapter of his book—The Maguey Plant.

This discussion of the book would not be complete without due attention being paid to it, and we close this series of comments with a complete copy of that chapter:

"The maguey plant is a true vegetable spring. When the plant is about to bloom it is anxiously watched by the patient Indian, who, as soon as he discovers the true signs, which consist in the stem beginning to shoot up, the leaves, which are usually bent toward the ground, close up, and the appearance of the plant changes completely. The stem is then cut short and an incision made with a sharp spoon into the heart of the plant, and the sap or juice is then gathered as often as three times a day. One Indian can attend to three hundred plants, usually called a quebra. A plant will commonly furnish, in twenty-four hours, four cubic decimeters (or 242 cubic inches English measure), equal to eight Mexican quertillos. Of this total quantity they obtain three quertillos at sunrise, two at midday, and three at six in the evening. A very vigorous plant will yield as much as fifteen quertillos, 454 cubic inches, English, per day, for four to five months, which amounts to the enormous volume of more than 1,100 cubic decimeters, or 67,130 inches. This abundance of juice, produced by a single maguey of scarcely a yard in height, is so much more astonishing from the fact that the plantations are generally situated on arid ground where nothing else will grow except yuca. It is well to add that the produce of the maguey, like the produce of the vine, varies very much according to the latitude and the atmosphere, etc.

"After the plant has furnished its crop of juice it dies off. Then out of the leaves a very good paper can be manufactured; the point of the leaves are used by the Indians as needles. Out of the leaves is made a kind of hemp called istle, which is worth as much as 12½ cents per pound, and is exported to manufacture rope, brushes, etc. The plant is prevented from blooming, because all that nature destined to produce, the growth of the stems, flowers and fruit is to become the favorite beverage of the Mexicans, pulque. The plant which has until then been abandoned to itself as the wild tree of the forest, when it is about to blossom, becomes an object of greatest care and vigilance. The Mexican Indian, with the patience that characterizes his race, watches the appearance of the indications of the growth of the stem, the straightening and closing of the leaves, and, in fact, the general appearance of the plant; he inspects carefully the field and marks each plant that is about to bloom. It is then that the sap is gathered, which is called in Mexico agua miel (honey-water) on account of its sweet flavor, and with it the pulque is prepared. After cutting the sprout or stem of the plant and taking away the leaves surrounding it with the spoon, the stem is hollowed out six or seven inches in diameter, and six inches in depth. It is in this cavity that the sap is gathered; the hole or wound made in the plant, enlarged gradually, is covered by closing the leaves growing around the stem tying them together at the points, or bending them by placing a flat rock over them. The liquid sap is carried off two or three times a day, and in order to facilitate the flow of sap, the cavity made in the plant is rasped with a sharp instrument each time that it is emptied, something like a spoon with sharp edges. To gather this sweet sap the Indians use an instrument acting like a pipette, which they call Accocate. It consists of a long quirt, to each end of which are affixed two pieces of sharp horn; while one end is plunged in the liquid, the other placed in the mouth draws the liquid, which is then emptied into an earthen jar and then carried into the cellar where the fermentation is to take place.

"Although the maguey will grow in soil where no other plant will, it matures with more precocity when planted in good soil and is cultivated, and in some localities watered occasionally. In some soil agave will mature in five years. Heat has great influence over the expansion of the growth of the stem and its blooming. Experience shows that the maguey acclimated in Africa and in South America will travel over the cycle of its vegetation much more rapidly than in the table lands of Mexico and Peru. This rapid growth is, however, unfavorable to the sweet sap, and that is probably the reason why in Spain and Italy the agave is not, as in the plateau of Anahuac, cultivated as a produce.

"In northern climes the maguey vegetates but rarely matures. That is probably the reason that it only blossomed in a hundred years. In the State of Oaxaca, in the Republic of Mexico, at an altitude of 10,000 feet, the furesaea longaeva being forty-two to forty-five feet in height, bearing leaves from six to nine feet long, only brings forth its yellow flower once in every hundred years—if the Indian's statement can be relied on. In the vicinity of Toluca and Cacanumecan, State of Mexico, and Choluta, State of Puebla, the cultivated maguey reaches its maturity in eight years. In that section of the country a plant furnishes a gallon of liquid daily, and a vigorous plant will furnish as much as seven quarts in every twenty-four hours, during four or five months; this is the maximum yield. In bad soils a plant will not render in the same period of time more than 112 quarts of juice (agua miel).

"Dr. Dreyer, military apothecary in the French army, has observed that one plant during three months yielded one to two quarts daily; altogether, 136 quarts. The difference in the yield of this plant is attributed to the locality, the quality of the soil, and the culture or the care taken of the plant when the first signs of maturity are shown, and, above all, of the choice in the variety of the plant to be cultivated. In the State of San Luis Potosi the maguey matures in from four to eight years, according to locality; five years are considered a fair average. The cost of planting 100,000 magueys in that state is from $400 to $600. A large maguey can produce twenty-five pounds of istle, worth from $2.50 to $3.

"The maguey stands at the head of the alcohol producing plants, producing fifty per cent more alcohol than corn, sugarcane, Irish potatoes, grapes, and in fact of all plants on an equal space of ground. It excels all other products in its production of alcohol."

RANCHERS TELL THEIR TROUBLES TO U. S. OFFICIAL

By Billie Stevenson

Some 800 farmers, ranchers, feed and implement dealers and bankers, representing 36 or more counties, met at the Plaza Hotel in San Antonio April 6 to bring the drought problems before U. S. Officials from Washington D.C.

Kenneth L. Scott, Director of Agriculture Credit Services of the Department of Agriculture, and Robert B. McLeish, administrator of Farmers Home Administration took the reports of the drought stricken areas of Texas back to Washington to be presented to Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

More than 50 spokesmen gave reports on the drought condition in their territories and some suggested programs for relief.

Many suggested extended long term credit programs with lower interest rate, some suggested they be given surplus feeds that the government was now paying storage on. Others said they need a good hay and protein feed program and that they did not want charity but an opportunity to make a living, under the adverse conditions that prevail in the drought area.

One farmer said, "We need something besides credit here too. We are not able to plant and when the farmer goes down he carries the whole community down with him. All the merchants whose business depends on the support of the farmer will go down with us."

Another, "We need relief now. Our credit is exhausted and conditions are drastic. The only help now is free feed to keep us in business."

Still another, "We need a moratorium. We don't want something for nothing. We need a low rate of interest and long time credit on a workable and understandable program where the little man gets what he needs."

"The government is subsidizing most other industries, why not the farmer and rancher? Help is being given to foreign disaster nations and we think some of this charity should start at home. We need long time credit and help for an industry that has never let the government down."

Director of Agriculture Credit Services Scott said, at the end of the meeting, "We are using all the authority we have at the present. We have had several meetings and recommended a number of amendments to broaden our authority and funds to be used by the Farm Home Administration. There is a real need to realize the great responsibility to stay with the agricultural people now and work this thing out. The present feed program has real merits, but serious administrative problems. If you had had a flood or storm disaster, you would have had relief helping here immediately; but a drought has administrative problems. We are working on it. We'll have a meeting in Washington on April 9 and we will recommend a program we feel will do the most good."

McLeish said, "We'll work and get what we can to take care of a rough situation."

6 Anvil Herald, Hondo, Texas Friday, April 20, 1936 COUNTY AGENT NEWS

By C. B. Gaston

The USDA reports that farm real estate values in Texas dropped slightly—1 per cent during the last four months of 1935 but was 3 per cent higher on November 1, 1935 than on the same date a year earlier.

Sudangrass
The farmers are still looking for the spring rains in order to plant their crops. As was reported by one farmer, each day gets us one day closer to the rains that are due to fall, 30 when moisture is available, plans should be made to get some summer temporary pastures planted. Sudangrass is the best bet in this part of the state. It can be planted until the supply of moisture becomes short in the summer. Row plantings made at the rate of 7 to 10 pounds of seed per acre is best for grazing, while 20-25 pounds is recommended for broadcast if it is to be used as a hay crop. If the grazing land for sudan is planted at two week intervals, it will prolong the most desirable grazing for the livestock.

During the last quarter of 1935, the farm value of choice beef was down an average of nine cents a pound, while the retail price dropped only three and a half cents a pound. The U. S. Department of Agriculture reports that the difference between what the farmer receives for this grade of beef on the hoof and what the consumer pays has fluctuated widely during the past seven years 1949-55.

Reseeding Range
A. H. Walker, Extension Range Specialist, states that reseeding abandoned cropland or barren rangeland is one good method to get grass back when moisture conditions are favorable. He does not advocate scattering the grass seed on the barren land, but plant it in rows on well prepared soil so it can be cared for until it is well established. The grass seed should be covered 1/2 inch deep on the average and a cultipacker or roller used to get the soil firm to hold the seed in a moist area after planting. Good management is very essential if any beneficial results are to be obtained from reseeding.

Soil Judging Contest
The 4-H Club Soil Judging contest was held last Saturday in the Hondo vicinity. The winning team of four boys will represent this county in the District Elimination contest at Alice on April 28th. Scores of the boys are as follows: Donald Neumann, Hondo, 516; Clyde Bohmfalk, Hondo, 479; Pete Angermiller, Hondo, 436; Richard McFadden, Castroville, 374; Roy S. Miller, Mico, 368; George Koch, Hondo, 366; William Reus, Hondo, 364; Roy John Biediger, LaCoste, 246; Roger Bippert, LaCoste, 229; Sylvan Biediger, LaCoste, 219; Tito Moreno, LaCoste, 134.

The boys in the county have completed the study in the Tractor Maintenance course and the county contest will be held in Hondo next Saturday starting at 9:30 a.m. The county winner will compete in the district contest at Alice on April 28th. The public is invited to witness the contest and see what the boys can do under competition.

J. A. Gray, Extension Sheep and Goat Specialist, will be in Medina County on April 26th to hold a sheep culling demonstration at the Marcellus Garrison ranch. He will show those who are interested in improving their flocks as to what to look for in their flocks. To get to the Garrison Ranch go out the Tarpley road 20 miles and turn west on the road toward the Roth School, cross five cattle guards, and then take the first road to the left two miles. This meeting is scheduled for 2:00 p.m.

Sesame Meeting
A meeting on production of Sesame will be held at the LaCoste High School on Monday night. There will be people present that can give the information on the raising of this crop and any people who did not get to attend the meeting recently at Devine are invited to attend.

The main insect that ruins a good pecan crop is the nut casebearer. The best time for spraying the trees for this insect will be about the 25th of this month on most of the trees. This insect makes its appearance about the time the small nut on the end of the limb is fertilized with pollen. To check on the pollination is to look over the trees and when the dark brown over the tree, it is the best time to apply the first spray application. A good spray formula is 3 pounds 50 per cent DDT, 8 pounds wettable sulfur, per 100 gallons of water. Pecan rosette which causes the small limbs in the top of the tree to die in the summertime can be prevented if 2 pounds of zinc sulphate is added to the above mixture and applied at the same time.

WONNIEST HAT MODELED at the Crazy Hats Luncheon sponsored by the H.A.B. Club last Wednesday was the creation of Nell Smith. Her entry, entitled "Doggone Good" was fashioned of a toy plush dog, wearing a small hat and actually holding a lighted cigarette in its mouth. The most original category was won by Anita Scott for her "Bottoms Up" hat which made use of cardboard baby legs diapered and pinned with big safety pins.

—Staff Photo

WINNING THE MISCELLANEOUS hat was Carol Masoner whose entry was "April Showers." Extending from the small crepe paper headpiece, which held colorful butterflies, was a white cotton cloud, and falling from the cloud were many pearl raindrops. Declared most beautiful hat was the one designed and worn by Hazel Scott. Named "Tossed Salad," the hat was basically made from real lettuce leaves adorned with green pickles. Hanging around the brim were many radishes.

HELP WANTED

We need an excellent typist, who is willing to learn the operation of a Teletypesetter performer.

The keyboard is similar to that of an ordinary typewriter, with a few added keys. The work consists of typing the news which is to appear in the paper, and it can get monotonous, interesting and even exciting at times. Most of the time, however, it is just one page after another of copy, and you may get tired of it.

It pays well, we believe, and if you are able to type in the neighborhood of 60 words per minute, and make not more than one error per minute, you may be the one we are looking for. We would prefer someone who wants the position from now on, although it takes just a few weeks to become proficient, and we have had a number of very talented "Air Force Wives" who could stay only a few months before transfer time. If you know someone who might be interested, you'd be doing them (and us) a favor if you'll urge them to get down to The Anvil Herald office right away and leave their application. If you don't know how your typing is, we'll even give you a speed test—so come on in.

The Anvil Herald (tf44)

TODAY'S BIG SPECIAL
at a price that will open your eyes
(and Purse)

If you're in the market for a real buy, take a good look at this one. It's a 1956 Buick SPECIAL—which means, of course, it's a big car. But look again at the price news it carries. It tells you this big Buick SPECIAL can be yours for only a few dollars more than the price of the well-known smaller cars—for even less than some models of those very same cars. (And the price we'll show you proves how true that is.)

The gospel truth is—this brawny new beauty is the biggest bundle of high style and hot performance ever offered in Buick's lowest-priced Series.

Even that, though, doesn't completely explain why Buick outsells every car in America except the two well-known smaller ones. To understand the big reason, you've got to know something about how much more pure automobile you get for your money in a 1956 Buick—

The extra satisfaction of commanding Buick's walloping new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine—

The extra joy and comfort of Buick's new buoyant ride, Buick's matchless new handling ease, Buick's extra solidity of structure—

The extra thrill that comes from the world's most modern transmission. For, at your option, you can also have the new double-action take-off—and the extra gas-saving mileage—of Buick's advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.

Those are some of the things we'd like you to know, firsthand, about the 1956 Buick. And we'll let the car itself—and that low price tag—do the talking. Will you come in—real soon—this week maybe?

†New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

They Travel "In Class"

Our high school correspondent says that Economics and Geography students are going in for "grass roots" studying.

They're going to charter buses and take off on Operation See-For-Yourself—have a ten-day look at some of the things they've been studying about.

As I remember, it was hard to keep your mind on schoolbooks at this time of year. Today's kids can give in to that old urge to bust out of the classroom—with a clear conscience. Wish they'd take me along.

From where I sit, it doesn't hurt us adults, either, to get out and see how the rest of the country lives. We find the "typical American" doing everything from herding cattle to flying planes ... with everything from steak to chowder for his favorite dish ... everything from beer to butter-milk for his favorite beverage. And the more we study our differences the more we learn how alike everyone is underneath.

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

By Dr. John H. Jennings

Coach Max Carver and a few of us have, since last January, been "encouraging" (urging) Mr. Barry to take over the reins of the Hondo Owl baseballers. Up to now, Mr. Barry has had too full a schedule to attempt to do much with the Owls, but things are getting a bit squared away now and he will be lending a helping hand on the diamond. Coach Carver has never claimed to be a baseball Connie Mack, but he was assigned a job and he is carrying out his assignment. Mr. Barry still has to hesitate about taking full command due to his schedule but we know for sure that Coach Carver will give him all the authority he will accept in running the Owls and will pat him on the back for it all.

A Top Coach

The reason Buck Carver and all of us are so anxious to see Mr. Barry back in baseball is that we all realize that there is just not a better baseball man for miles and miles and miles than our Mr. Barry. He is especially good with high schoolers, for he can explain how to play each position, tell you how to make a play, give you useful batting tips, and when you "golf" he can tell you about it in the nicest and "in a most impressive way that you will remember," of anyone I have ever seen. Cling Hartung, Stan Hollmig, Tom Finger and many many others will vouch for that. I guess it is because all of us who ever played under Mr. Barry have so much respect for his judgment, his understanding, the confidence he instills in you—all added with just a touch of humor to ease the tensions—that makes us know that he is the best.

Owls Take East Central

The Hondo Owls took a 3-0 contest over East Central Tuesday in San Antonio. It started out as a bad afternoon as the bus broke down just this side of Lackland but all worked out in good fashion.

Alvin Hartman was the mound choice and tossed a 2 hitter, one of which was a bunt that was supposed to roll foul. Big Alvin also hit three balls that were caught up between the fence, as a strong wind held them up. East Central had runners as far as 2nd and 3rd once but Hartman struck out the final out.

The Owls played fine defensive ball, making 1 error, but their hitting still leaves lots to be desired—they managed 5 hits East Central has some very young boys but the Owls had to work for their 3 runs. The Owls District record now reads 2 wins and 1 loss.

Owl Schedule

Thursday, Apr 19, Hondo Owls at Northeast, 4 pm
Tuesday, April 24, Hondo Owls at Edgewood, 4 pm
Friday, April 27, Hondo Owls at Devine, 4 pm

The Hondo Owls were rocking along with a 2-0 lead through 5 innings last Friday when all of a sudden the roof fell in as South San came up with 7 hits and 2 base on balls good for 7 runs in the 6th. This one inning was all the visitors needed to take home a 7 to 3 win.

Richard Schulte was the Owl starter and had 5 no-hit innings going for him when he found his control making him let up—and as he did—the hits began to fall. Alvin Hartman worked the final one and two-third innings and he gave up 2 hits and walked 1.

Schulte, the losing pitcher, gave up 5 hits, 5 walks and struck out 4 in the five and one third innings he toiled.

South San got 7 runs on 7 hits, 6 walks and no Hondo errors. The Owls managed 3 runs on 7 hits. Five Owls went out on strike-outs. Pete Angermiller and Richard Schulte got two hits apiece to lead the Owls attack while Wayne Balzen, Jug Wiemers and Billy Neuman came up with one hit apiece. Neuman laced out a tremendous triple in the 7th to chase Angermiller across home from 1st with the final Owl tally.

The loss made the Owl district record read 1 win and 1 loss. The HAB Falcons of Hwy 90 are picking up fans as they go, as well as victories. The Falcons lost their opener to the Hondo Braves but in their two other outings have wins over D'Hanis and previously undefeated Castroville. The Castroville game was as good a contest as will be seen on the local diamond this year—the HAB won it 4 to 3 in the 13th—in a real pitcher's battle. The Falcons tied it up in the 9th with a 2 run rally 3-3. The Indians lost it the hard way too, for in the 13th HAB lead off with a single to left, everyone was safe on a sacrifice as pitcher Billy Tschirhart overthrew 2nd, then another infield hit was too hot for the pitcher to handle and it loaded the bases—then the runner on 3rd took too large a lead before Tschirhart toed the rubber—Billy had his man picked off but the ball squirted away from the 3rd baseman and the runner came home for the ballgame!

Big left-handed John Brouse for the Base is as good a chunker as you will see in these parts—his ball is quick—and is always doing something—and he has fine control. It's a pleasure to see him work. The Falcons lack a batting punch, but when they do get on base they like to run, and as long as they have Brouse they will have a good club.

A Windy Sunday

Last Sunday found a lot of weird baseball for the wind played havoc with any activity. It was as bad and persistent a wind as we have had in many a year.

Rio Medina started slapping home runs all over the place, topped by Maurice Rihn's game winning bases loaded, home run in the last of the 9th that gave the Tigers a 17 to 14 win. High Schooler Jug Wiemers got the only Braves home run, plus getting 4 hits, and Maurice Zerr came thru with 4 for 5 to make a windy day seem more pleasant to him.

Mgr Parsons, of course, has hated to lose 2 of his 3 league games but the Braves' promise is good and should hit their stride soon and be fighting for a top spot in the league standings.

THE BRAVES PLAY CASTROVILLE HERE FRIDAY NITE IN A CHANGE OF SCHEDULE. D'Hanis and Quihi had a real "winder" too—D'Hanis lead something like 25 to 3—and with the elements and all, the game was called after 7 innings. The wind not only affected Hwy 90. The S. A. Missions had a duzy 20-18 win over Austin the same day!

The Missions are doing just like last year. They have young Mgr has to see how they stack boys on the roster and they are the ones now in the line-up. The up-to give them every chance to see if they can play Texas League ball or be sent to a lower classification. Sooo, until the dead wood is cut loose, Stan Hollmig may not see too much action for they know what Stan can do and a place is waiting for him.

The Missions have tried to lure Cling Hartung away from Sinton to play with the Missions. It no doubt was and is a strong temptation for Clint as he would like to play near home for once, but too he would like to have a future with the Plymouth Oil Co. at Sinton—and over the long haul may find it to his security advantage to stay in Sinton. However, it would be nice if he would work something out.

Golf

The fairway weeds at the HAB course were sprayed last week and if successful will be a big help to the golfers. The wind forced a cancellation of last Sunday's Sweepstakes. . . a number of the ladies are taking up the game. . . Joe Mitchell is giving lessons to the ladies on Friday mornings 8 to 9 a.m., 9 to 10 and 10 to 11 a.m. and he has 4 to 6 in each class!
